Make a quarantine time capsule.

While this new reality hasn't been easy for us, we know one day we'll look back at it. Why not put together a time capsule that the whole family can contribute? Add in photos, notes and other things you did as a family while staying at home. Possibly add in a journal. Don't open it for years, or better yet, save it for your grandchildren!

Create a cooking or baking challenge

If your kids are obsessed with Food Network's Baking Championship series or Chopped, then recreate some friendly competition at home. Challenge the family to make dinner together and assign one dish for each member to make. If you're craving sweets, bake a cake together but have the kids decorate it in a certain theme.
